

The Best Spot

Like most cats, Ollie loves to lie in the sun but she also has a thing for shoes. If you are over visiting us there is a good chance that while you're sipping your tea Ollie is going to try your shoes on. Consequently it wasn't too surprising to discover that her favourite spot for napping while we're home for lunch is in the pool of sunshine that comes through the front door and lands on my shoes. I wouldn't have guessed it was so comfortable but she always looks incredibly content with her paws in my shoe and the sun on her back.
