

Ollie in a Box

Sunday, 17 February 2013 03:49

I wanted to include this photo in my Project Life album but ran out of room so I thought I'd blog it instead. One of the great things about living with a cat is putting a box on the floor and watching what happens (I believe there are whole YouTube channels dedicated to this). Ollie and Fred naturally love boxes and will sit in them or, in Fred's case, rub themselves all over them at every opportunity. If the box happens to also be in the sun there are bonus points.